Features & Benefits

Reduced Costs

Voice over IP (VoIP) reduces the number of lines needed from a traditional phone company like Qwest. You are nearly assured of an immediate reduction in your costs.

Enhance Your Image

With a VoIP system from Keystone you will have the same, powerful phone system capabilities as the expensive "Fortune 500" solutions available to the biggest corporations and institutions. Use available features to help your customers have a more professional and comfortable interaction with your business - project that professional image you want.

Improved Customer Service

Help your customers get answers quickly. Make them feel appreciated and as important as they are to your business.

Greater Flexibility

Provide your business with greater flexibility in using phones. VoIP phone extensions are not tied to a jack in the wall. The extension will follow the phone wherever it goes in the office - or outside the main office!

Increased Productivity

With the "converged technology" of the VoIP systems set up by Keystone IT, your Outlook contacts, email, cell phones and the phone system become one. They seamlessly share information, calls and messages.

Low Cost Scalability

With Keystone IT's capabilities, you can add users and add lines with ease. A bonus: low, low costs to do it. OR, CPAs take note, add or reduce the number of VoIP lines you use with ease to fit your seasonal use.

Connect Multiple Offices

The VoIP systems from Keystone IT can be used to connect multiple offices on one phone system. The many available features allow businesses to tailor the management of calls, centralize mail boxes, internal and external conferencing, etc. to maximize their realization of benefits.

Always Current

The VoIP systems from Keystone IT keep you current with the latest technology at no cost to you. Free upgrades and improvements come with your system.
